

Warlords map editors

Posted by M0d3M - 05 May 2012 10:48

And now for something completely different.

There are two editors for Warlords 1. The first one is WLEDIT (Warlords Terrain Editor) made by William Winton:

This is very powerful editor. With this tool you can create complete Warlords scenarios for Warlords v 2.XX. I tried with Warlords v 2.10 and it worked.

There is another editor called WLED. It was created by Andrey Volkov in 1991:

Unfortunately, WLED supports only versions 1.XX. There were a lot of changes in 2.00 and maps created in WLED are not playable in 2.XX.

Hi M0d3M,

Thanks you for sharing! Unfortunately, the website seems to be unavailable. Could you please reupload the editor somewhere else?

M0d3M,

I'll host it here is your site isn't going back up soon or there is no place else for it.

M0d3M, KGB,

Any news on this?

I've heard nothing.

Perhaps you might want to send M0d3M a private message in case he's not checking the forum that often.

Hi guys!

You're right, I'm not checking this forum that often 😊
. If you really miss me, then here's my primary e-mail address: artjom.rjabov@gmail.com .

I'm working on my site, but slowly. I'll upload the editors somewhere during this week. Or I can send them to you by e-mail if you want.

M0d3M,

I just emailed you for the editors and I'll pass them on.

I suppose you could send on the War1 maps too I guess for completeness sake.

M0d3M,

Thanks for the link to the site.

I decided to capture the downloads in case your site ever goes off line again. I found the following issues:

- 1) Monica Map is a 404 error
- 2) England, Europe, Greece, Rome and USA maps aren't in archive format so it opens them in Hex in the browser.

Fixed.

Jeez, Tim. I thought you are old enough to remember ARJ . I don't want to repack them because they were packed by the original authors like... 25 years ago. Preserving history.

Just right click on the link and select "save as". It works in Firefox. I don't know anything about chrome though (because it's terrible).
